Hunger & Homeless Week

Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week is an annual program where people come together across the country to draw attention to the problems of hunger and homelessness. Participating groups spend the week holding a series of educational, service, fundraising, and advocacy events.

Want to help address hunger and homelessness in your community? Whether you want to participate as an organizer, a volunteer, a donor, or an attendee, there are lots of ways to get involved with your local Awareness Week.

More than 700 community organizations, churches, high schools, college groups, and others will participate in Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week this year. You should join them. Host the Awareness Week in your community. Organize a series of events this November to shine a light on these critical issues.

Ms. Ayana Johnson

To Write Love on Her Arms

Our founder, Jamie Tworkowski, didn't set out to start a nonprofit organization. All he wanted to do was help a friend and tell her story. When Jamie met Renee Yohe, she was struggling with addiction, depression, self-injury, and suicidal thoughts. He wrote about the five days he spent with her before she entered a treatment center, and he sold T-shirts to help cover the cost. When she entered treatment, he posted the story on MySpace to give it a home. The name of the story was "To Write Love on Her Arms."

To Write Love on Her Arms is a nonprofit movement dedicated to presenting hope and finding help for people struggling with depression, addiction, self-injury, and suicide. TWLOHA exists to encourage, inform, inspire, and invest directly into treatment and recovery.

Ms. Taniqua Litt

FSA Counseling Center

The mission of FSA, is to improve the lives of individuals and families by providing affordable, quality counseling and education. Through our unique reduced-fee system, we provide a space for individuals who choose to come, but also open our door to those who experience barriers to treatment. To the staff at FSA Counseling Center, community means quality mental health programs and services for everyone in Terre Haute and its surrounding counties. Quality care for our community means that people have access to exceptional counseling and outreach programs when they choose to. FSA prioritizes this goal by providing individualized expert care and short wait times.

In fact, the clinicians at FSA make every effort to schedule clients for their initial appointments within two weeks. We work hard to maintain that standard out of respect for our clients. With the sense of urgency inherent in the mental health system today, we don't want you to wait, worry, or wonder – we want you to know we are here to help.
