

NATIONAL SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY WEEK

NOV. 6-10, 2023

What does a School Psychologist do?

“School psychologists are uniquely qualified members of school teams that support students’ ability to learn and teachers’ ability to teach. They apply expertise in mental health, learning, and behavior, to help children and youth succeed academically, socially, behaviorally, and emotionally. School psychologists partner with families, teachers, school administrators, and other professionals to create safe, healthy, and supportive learning environments that strengthen connections between home, school, and the community.” (NASPonline.org)

What education is required to become a School Psychologist?

A career in school psychology requires graduate-level specialist degree program or a doctoral degree.
Credentials are required for the state in which you work (or you can become nationally certified).

What are the job opportunities like for School Psychologists?

School Psychology is in HIGH DEMAND.
It’s a well-paying career, with great benefits and an opportunity to serve your community.

School psychology has consistently been rated among the 100 Best Jobs in U.S. News and World Report. (NASPonline.org)

School Psychologists work in:

- Schools / Preschools
- Clinics / Hospitals
- Universities
- Juvenile Justice Programs
- Private Practices

Click this link or scan the QR code below to learn more about the role of a School Psychologist!

Scan me!

DID YOU KNOW?...

ISU has graduate-level specialist and doctoral degree programs in School Psychology?
Click this link or scan the QR code below to learn more about the programs and how to apply!

Scan me!

Salary of School Psychologists

(From: NASPonline.org)

- $72,000 (Median salary in Midwest/Central Region of US)

Apply for a graduate program today!

- Go online to indstate.edu/apply to learn more about the application process.